

The Epiphany School of Global Studies seeks an experienced Choral Music teacher for a full-time position, beginning in August 2019.

Epiphany is a thriving K-12 independent school, in a historic setting, situated along the shores of Eastern North Carolina. We are a college-preparatory community of faith that is committed to creating globally aware students who are prepared to thrive in the world around them. Epiphany's Trent Road Campus is our lively center of discovery and learning for students in grades 6-12.

Successful candidates will have a high level of comfort working in an independent school setting that allows for innovative teaching, curricular design input, and collaboration with a professional team of educators. The Choral Music teacher will instruct students in grade levels six through twelve. The teacher will provide instruction in the skills necessary to access information in all formats to both large groups and individual students. The candidate will write lesson plans in accordance with school expectations. The candidate will adapt curriculum to the needs of the students with varying intellectual abilities and to accommodate a variety of instructional needs. The teacher will evaluate each student's musical growth, performance, and musical understanding in relationship to the level being taught. Practically speaking, the teacher will instruct skills in music understanding/appreciation, harmony, explorations in music and choral music in relationship to the level being taught.

We are seeking a dynamic, progressive, experienced choral music teacher who will be part of an evolving fine arts program in a fast-growing school. This teacher will have instructional responsibilities for teaching choral music for students in Middle and Upper School grades and for collaborating with a team in offering a vigorous music experience. Candidates will fully embrace the school's mission and engage their students using instructional methods that are innovative, appropriate, relevant, and reflective. Instruction must also integrate technology, elicit critical thinking, and challenge students to continue discovery beyond the classroom. Candidates should also consider the possibility of taking on responsibilities such as a leadership role with a student club, becoming a student advisor, or even an athletic coach.

Interested applicants should complete an online application, submit a resume or CV, and a cover letter explaining how he/she matches Epiphany's search criteria.

At least five years of teaching experience and a master's degree is preferred.
